

1E18

Wings Trading (HK) Co., Ltd.

Wings Trading, established in 1980, has transformed itself from a traditional business into an enterprise offering a suite of professional services. About 10 years ago, it set up its own marketing, design, engineering and other supporting teams to provide all-round product development services to customers. Well established in OEM work, Wings has in recent years concentrated more on the development of ODM products in order to diversify business. More design-oriented and technology-driven products, such as the anamorphic cup, four-season diningware and silicone fabric projects, have been developed.